AIM:

Configuration of wireless LAN using CISCO Packet tracker

a) what is SSID of a wireless router?

SSID is the name of a wireless network. It is used to uniquely identify a

b) what is a Security key in a wireless routers?

A security key is a wireless router is a password or encryption key card to serve a wireless network.

Result:

Thus, a wireless LAN has been configured using Cisco packet tracer & output notified